MASQUERADES AS BOY AND LOOTS RICH DWELLINGS.

IN LEAGUE WITH BOLD GANG

HUSBAND OF FAKE BOY IS A LEGLESS MAN.

THIEVES STRIP BRIARHURST

An Eighteen-Year-Old Girl, Her Husband and a Partner in Crime Arrested With Thousands of Dollars Worth of Stolen Property.

Disguised as a huckster boy in this city for the last seven months, Miss Lottie Shirley, aged 18 years, has been acting with her husband, W. H. Shirley, and E. W. Butler, in league with an organized gang of thieves who have stolen thousands of dollars worth of merchandise from houses in this city and in New Mexico and Arizona.

A strang trio of alleged thieves who, according to the confession of a 12-year-old boy accompanying them, has been conducting systematic depredations in this city, Colorado City, Manitou and various parts of Arizona and New Mexico, stealing thousands of dollars worth of household goods and merchandise, were arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs John Schofield and Harry Alward, assisted by Chief of Police Edward Rottiger of Colorado City.

The prisoners are William H. Shirley, a practically legless man; his wife, Lottie Shirley, and E. W. Butler. Pat Alexander, aged 12 years, whom Butler brought here from Las Vegas, N. M., three months ago, is being cared for by the sheriff's office. His confession will surely convict the three defendants, in the opinion of the sheriff and his officials. The prisoners are confined separately in the county jail and the officers will endeavor to secure confessions from them today.

Masqueraded as Boy.

Shirley is about 45 years old and has no use whatever of his legs, having been paralyzed in a railroad accident several years ago. His wife, an 18-year-old girl, has been masquerading in this city as a boy since last August. When the couple came here from Las Vegas, Butler, who intended opening a candy store in Colorado City, he claims, prior to his arrest, is about 30 years of age.

After Butler was arrested yesterday Undersheriff George Dayton took "Mulligan" Shirley, a supposed lad of about 18 years of age, into the Sheriff's private office, intending to search him. The "boy" protested, but the official, unaware of "his" sex, went on with his examination, until he discovered that his prisoner was a girl. She then confessed that she was the wife of William H. Shirley, having married him in Pueblo about a year ago.

Girl's Confession.

The girl said that her husband, being crippled, relied on her for a living. She would not support him garbed as a woman, she said, and adopted man's attire. She was engaged as a huckster in this city and Colorado City last fall, no one suspecting her sex. Mrs. Shirley said that during the last few weeks she has been attending dances in Colorado City each week, always attired as a boy. Her good looks and prepossessing manner made "him" a favorite.

"I took many girls to dances," said Mrs. Shirley, "and made love to all of them. Not one suspected that I was a girl."

While waiting in the sheriff's office the young woman smoked several cigarettes, laughing and chatting in the best of spirits. Her hair is cropped so closely that it can scarcely be combed, even in masculine style. Although her voice is slightly effeminate, there is nothing in her walk or general appearance which betrays her sex. She was confined in the woman's ward of the county jail last night.

Lived in a Shack.

Mr. and Mrs. Shirley lived in a shack in Glasstown, south of Colorado City. Butler and young Alexander have been living in a tent in the rear of 2130 Colorado avenue, Colorado City. Butler was arrested yesterday noon on a warrant sworn out in Justice O. R. Dunnington's court by Carl F. Schneider, caretaker of Briarhurst, Dr. W. A. Bell's residence. The warrant charged burglary, the entire home, which is unoccupied, having been literally stripped of all its furniture. Mrs. Shirley was arrested at her home on Colorado avenue later in the afternoon, while her husband was captured last night.

Briarhurst Burglarized.

Four days ago Schneider discovered that the house at Briarhurst had been burglarized and notified the sheriff's office. Every article had been extracted from the residence, including the carpets, antique brass-brac, pictures, kitchen range, valuable paintings, bedsteads and furniture of every description.

Schneider inspected the house about four weeks ago, but was not inside the home since until the time of his discovery last Sunday. The exact date of the burglary is therefore unknown. Deputy Sheriff Scofield was put to work on the case and yesterday reported that he suspected E. W. Butler of Colorado City of being implicated in the deal.

DEFENSE RESTS ITS CASE

DEFENSE MAKES SURPRISING ANNOUNCEMENT.

QUICK TURN IN THAW TRIAL

JEROME WILL NOT ASK FOR A LUNACY COMMISSION.

WANTS CASE TO REACH JURY

Adjournment Till Monday Will Probably Be Asked for This Morning to Allow District Attorney to Arrange Course of Action. Sudden Decision.

NEW YORK, March 7. There was another quick turn of the cards in the trial of Harry K. Thaw today when the defense announced that it had concluded to rest its case. It was nearly six o'clock when Delphin M. Delmas, chief of the Thaw counsel, called District Attorney Jerome on the telephone and made the announcement.

The decision of Thaw's lawyers to close their case tomorrow without calling any more witnesses, surprised no one more than it did District Attorney Jerome. The district attorney expecting that the session tomorrow would be devoted to the examination of more experts, devoted a good part of today preparing for them. When, late in the afternoon, he received word that the defense had decided to rest their case, he was more or less puzzled.

"I will not be able to tell what action I will take tomorrow," he said, "until I hear in open court the words which assure me that the case of the defense has been finished. I am told now that this plan to close their case still stands, but their plans have been changed so many times since the trial began that I will not be sure of anything until I hear the statement in open court."

"In case the defense does not rest tomorrow, how long will the case last?" he was asked.

"It seems to me that the evidence should all be in by Wednesday," he replied. "Then by giving the defense one day for the closing address and allowing me the same amount of time, the case should go to the jury some time on Friday of next week."

Jerome Will Go to Jury.

"Will you go to the jury with the case, or will you ask for a commission in lunacy?"

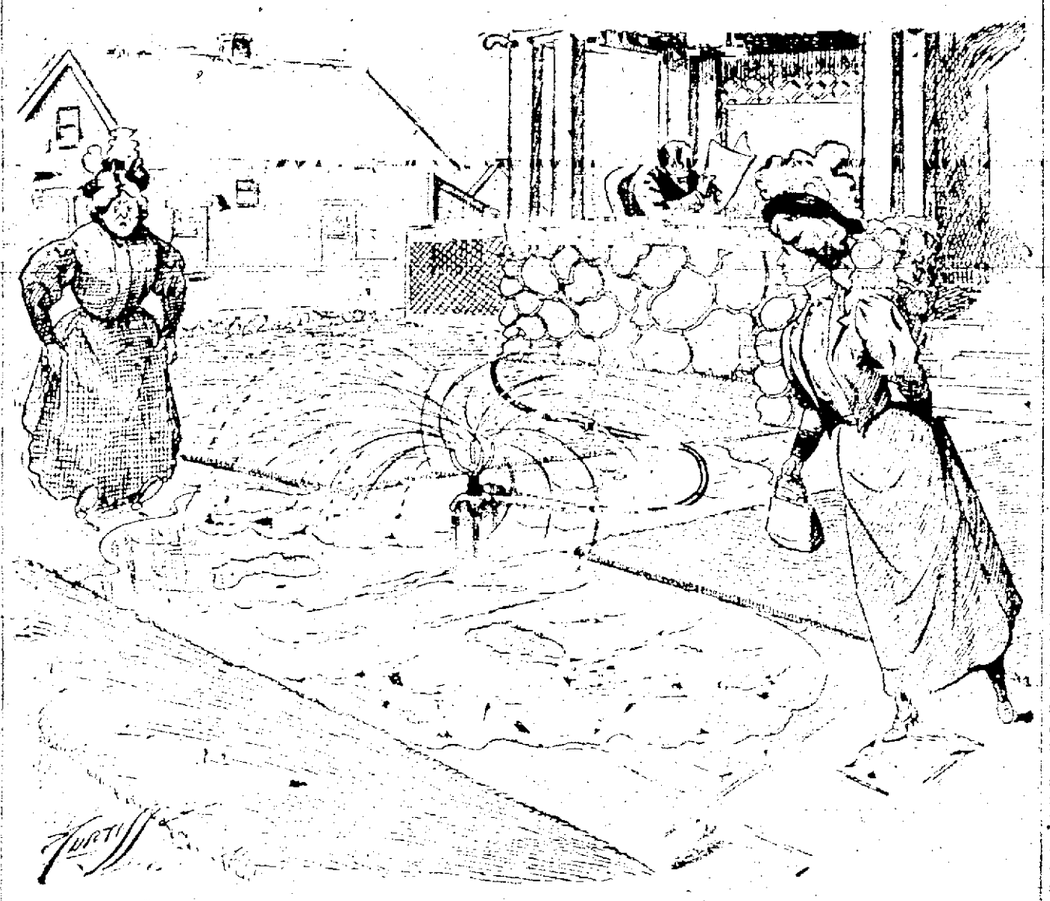

"On the evidence as it now stands I will certainly go to the jury," replied the district attorney. "If there is nothing between society and anyone who wishes to attack it but a 'brain storm,' we had better go back to the days of the frontier and every man take out a pistol permit."

Court will assemble tomorrow as planned, but what will be done is a question much discussed tonight. Mr. Delmas will make the simple announcement. "The defense rests."

It will then be the duty of the district attorney to take up the rebuttal,

ADAMS JURY DIVIDED

SIX FOR CONVICTION; SIX FOR ACQUITTAL.

Judge Woods Thanks Jurors for Their Patience and Diligence. Case Must Be Tried Again.

WALLACE, Idaho, March 7. The jury in the trial of Steve Adams for the murder of Fred Tyler, after being in deliberation since 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon, this evening at 7:00 announced through Foreman George Elders that it was impossible to agree upon a verdict and was discharged by Judge Woods.

The jury for many hours stood at seven for conviction and five for acquittal, and it was only on the last ballot that the jurymen stood evenly divided, six for conviction and six for acquittal.

Judge Woods thanked the jury for its patience and diligence in service, after the foreman declared positively that it was impossible to reach a verdict, and discharged them.

In the court room were all the attorneys for both sides and a few spectators. All interested vitally in the case were present except Mr. Hawley for the state. This means that the Steve Adams case must be tried again.

The prosecution declares Adams will be tried again for the murder of Tyler, but not before that the next term of court which begins in October. Although the defense openly state here that Adams will never be tried again on the Tyler charge.

This point is the expense to the county of Shoshone, estimated to be $25,000 for the trial alone, and say that the prosecution will, in their opinion, shortly announce that the case is dropped.

FINDS WIFE'S MANGLED FORM

St. Louis Merchant Stumbles Over Wife's Dead Body on Entering His Home. Wealthy Residents.

ST. LOUIS, March 7.—When he returned from his office tonight Herman W. Querusheim, president of the Querusheim Hardware company, stumbled over the lifeless form of his wife in the front hall of his residence 3720 Vista avenue, one of the fashionable residence streets. Mrs. Querusheim's throat had been cut, she had been shot once and her body had been brutally torn and bruised.

Scattered near the body were a large quantity of jewelry and several hundred dollars in currency. The only thing that was missing was a pair of handsome diamond earrings, which had been torn from the dead woman's ears.

Mr. Querusheim was unable to furnish any clue, and although almost the entire detective force has been assigned to the case, nothing has been learned as to the identity of Mrs. Querusheim's assailant.

ARCHIE ROOSEVELT IS IN A CRITICAL CONDITION.

Young Son of the President Very Low With Diphtheria—New York Physician Is Called.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Archie Roosevelt, the president's third son, who has been suffering from diphtheria since last Friday, had a turn for the worse, and tonight, though he has rallied somewhat, his condition is serious. Dr. Alexander Lambert of New York, in response to a telegram from the president, arrived in Washington at 9 o'clock, and has taken charge of the case. Drs. Rixey, Kennedy and Bradley were holding a consultation when Dr. Lambert arrived at the White house. Just previous to his coming further antitoxin was injected into the patient.

Drs. Braisted and Pryor left the White house at 9:3. They stated that if Archie's vitality holds out through the night there is an even chance for his recovery. At 10:30 Dr. Rixey issued the following bulletin:

"Archie has materially improved since noon, when considerable anxiety was felt on account of weak heart action. Tonight at 10:00 the case is more favorable, with

Special to The Gazette.

DENVER, Colo., March 7.—The house today passed the local option bill, with some amendments. The county feature could not be restored, as the majority had agreed to let it slide. All other amendments, with one exception, were merely to make it stronger and to prevent interference with social parties. The important amendment was the substitution of a new section for that having reference to drug stores. The section now reads:

"Section 14. It shall be a good defense to any prosecution under this act to show that the sale in question was made in a regularly registered pharmacy, for exclusively known medicinal, pharmaceutical, scientific, mechanical or sacramental purposes, and if sold for medicinal purposes, that it is sold only on good faith upon written prescription issued, signed and dated in good faith by a duly licensed physician in active practice, and that the prescription be used but once."

Another amendment by Gantt struck the penalty section that a man may open a bottle of wine in his own house to serve guests at a dinner without being liable to prosecution.

The vote on adopting the report of the committee of the whole, which is the final movement in passing a bill on second reading, was 34 to 27. The two parties were somewhat split over the matter, some of the Democrats favoring the bill and some opposing.

HARRIMAN FAVORS REFORM

URGES CO-OPERATION BETWEEN ROADS AND GOVERNMENT.

NOW ON COMMON GROUND

Magnate Says the Railroads, the Government and the People Should Now Deal With Each Other in Right Spirit—Discusses Conditions at Length.

NEW YORK, March 7.—"I am ready to make the advancement of a scheme of co-operation between the government and the railways, one object in view," said E. H. Harriman, president of the Union Pacific railroad, returning today from Washington.

Mr. Harriman declined to talk about the report that he had obtained control of the Reading railroad. Speaking of agitation against corporations within the state he said:

"They—we all of us—should have considered the possible effects of this agitation before it was begun or before the conditions that shade its growth possible was allowed to continue. If we had all met on common ground and co-operated for our mutual benefit nobody would be worrying over the situation as it is today.

"We all made a mistake in this. I realize the mistake, and I believe the administration at Washington is beginning to realize that it has been a little too radical in its attitude toward the railroads. Henceforth I look to see its opposition take on more of the spirit of co-operation. I believe the railways can expect to receive more even-handed justice.

On Common Ground.

"We men at the head of the great corporations on our part are coming to a better understanding of what the government expects of us. We are beginning to get the point of view of the administration. We feel that we are now all of us—the public, the government and the railways—on a common ground, where we can deal with each other in the right spirit.

"I am more than willing to give my support to such a process of enlightenment. I am ready to sacrifice the advancement of such a scheme of co-operation my chief interest. Surely there could be few conditions imaginable that would be of wider benefit than to eliminate hostile friction.

"Railroad managers have, I am willing to admit, in the past, neglected to build up a strong, harmonious relationship between themselves and with the government and the public. This matter has been left to subordinate officers and the result has been that such relations have been completely neglected. Now we must take the matter in our own hands in order to bring about a better understanding and co-operation.

Was Mistaken Policy.

"Our policy in the past has been a mistaken one, but it cannot be said that we have neglected our service to the public. When one considers what the railroads have done to develop this nation we cannot believe they have been anything but beneficial. The marvelous development of the country has been due to a very large degree to the enterprise of its railroads.

"Since the time we took hold of the system of railroads of which I am the head, $250,000,000 has been expended in rebuilding the roads. This has all been done since 1898. As another instance of what the railroads are doing to add to the general prosperity of the nation, I'll tell you that the roads of which I am head purchase about one million tons of steel rails yearly and during that period we purchase about ten million ties.

"All this goes to the welfare of the nation, and the development work which the railroads have done, but in some cases it may shortly result in the building up of so large a system that they are unable to handle it.

Combination Benefit to Public.

"Combination really benefits the public. The public may think otherwise, but it will learn the real truth in time. That time will come sooner if combinations are legalized. I believe in control and regulation, as I declared before the interstate commerce commission, but I think within the limits of such control corporations ought to be allowed to combine as they find it necessary or beneficial.

Mr. Harriman said that the railroads had frequently been at fault in the past by their failure to live up to traffic agreements. In this way there had come a lack of confidence among the railroad men, and the public naturally grew to lose confidence in their acts.

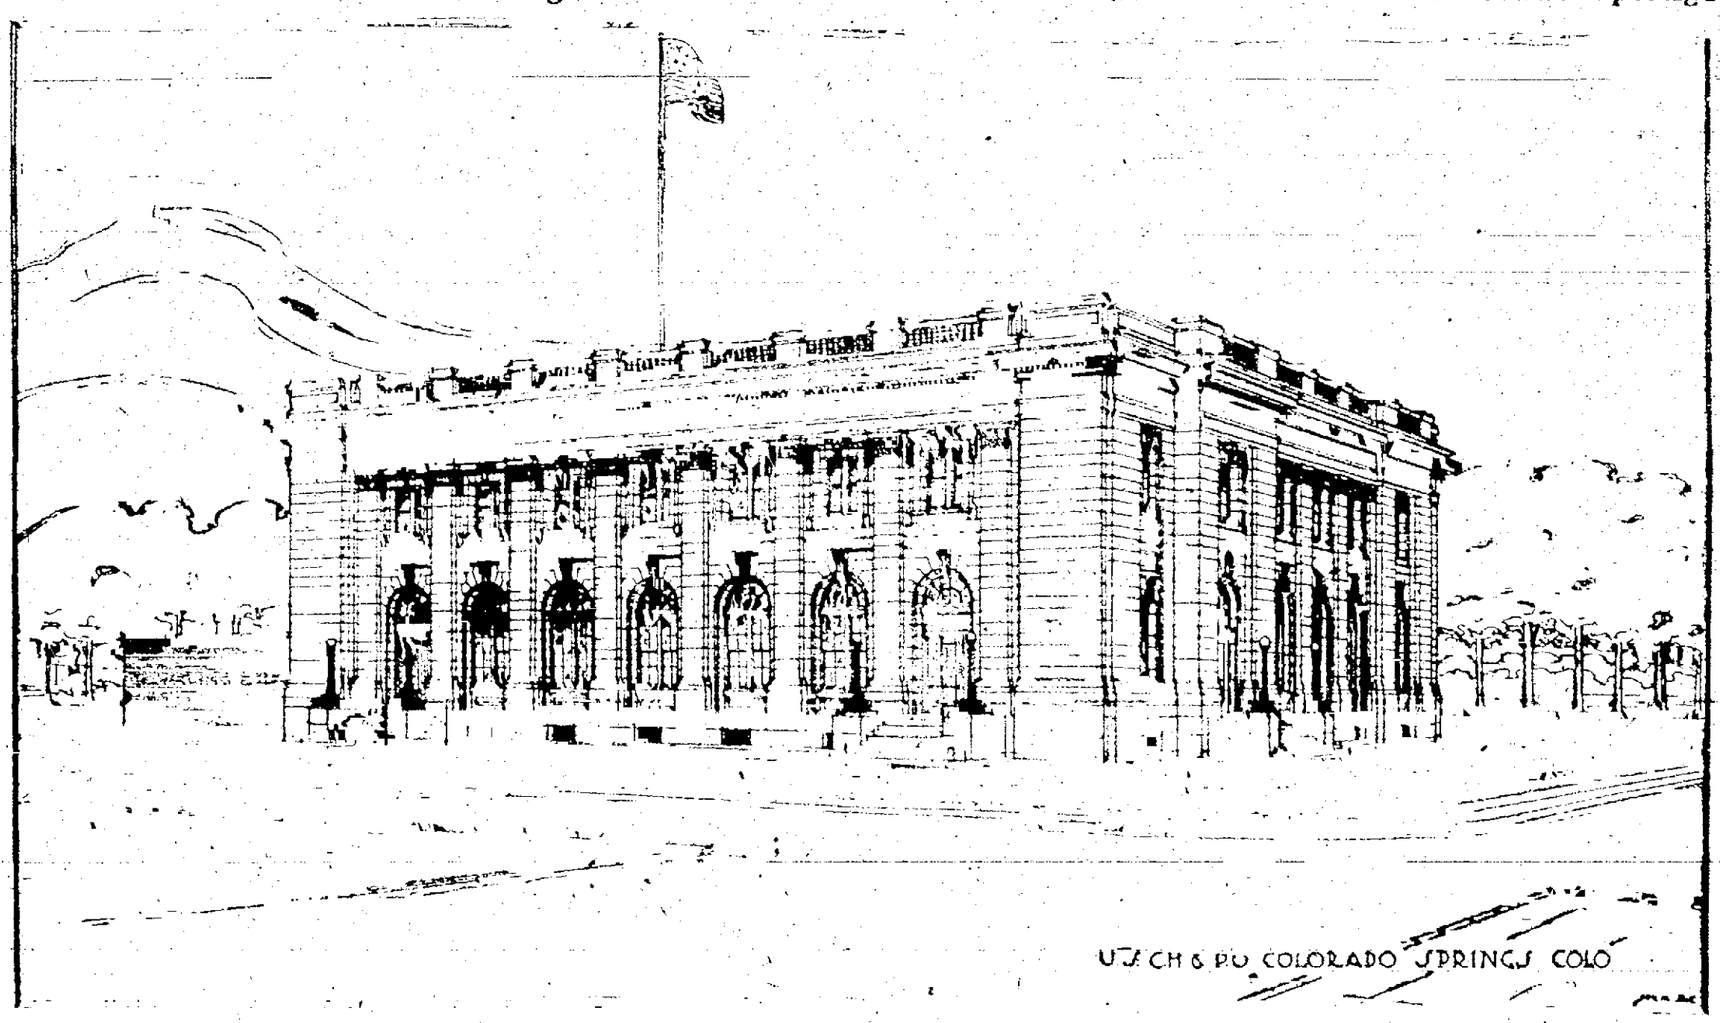

As to the money outlook, Mr. Harriman said the present tendency is bound to react in individual co-operation.

"I know in a general way of an all-round movement to reduce supplies. That is common sense," he said. "As for our own roads, we are tackling our business more compact and trying to conduct traffic at less cost. We may have to come to higher freight rates."

Mr. Harriman then took up the Chicago and Alton reorganization. He said that considering the conditions which existed at that time the road had been overcapitalized. "Do you expect to go to Washington and see the president again soon?" he was asked.

"The president knows where I am," he replied. "If he wants to see

Government Architect's Drawing of New Federal Court House and Postoffice at Colorado Springs

In the above cut The Gazette affords its readers the first published picture, taken from the government architect's drawings, of the proposed new federal court house and postoffice for Colorado Springs, which will be erected this summer. The building will stand on the site purchased at the southeast corner of Pike's Peak and Nevada avenues, having a frontage of 193 feet on the former and 140 feet on the latter. The first appropriation for the building was $175,000, which was afterwards increased to $350,000 through the efforts of Representative Franklin E. Brooks. The site, which was bought from the Stratton estate, cost $135,000, and the present plans have been greatly enlarged from those originally proposed, which were intended for a postoffice building only. As shown in the cut, the building will have two entrances on Pike's Peak avenue, whereas there was originally only one. The depth of the structure has also been largely increased, and with the larger site the building will be set further back from the street than was at first planned.

The remainder of the morning was spent in considering four bills touching on telephone matters, all introduced by Senator Parks. The bills created a good deal of feeling, members ... that they were all directed to making stronger the position of the Colorado Telephone company in its fight against the Automatic that has been granted a franchise by vote in Denver.

One of the bills provides that any taxpayer may file a bill in equity to seek the cancellation of franchises already granted. Senator Parks explained that such is not now the law. Two of them are to provide that ... seeking rights ... must agree with ... corporations that already have franchises before entering upon construction and that such construction must not conflict with rights of older companies. The fourth bill provides that when a franchise has been refused or has been declared by the courts to have been wrongly voted ... granted the same company is debarred from again asking a franchise for four years. The bills got through by a narrow margin, not enough to guarantee its safety on third reading.

NOTED AUTHORITY SAYS THIS SIMPLE HOME-MADE MIXTURE WILL RELIEVE CATARRH.

This winter as last will prove a harvest for the doctors and patent medicine manufacturers unless great care is taken to dress warm and keep the feet dry.

This is the advice of a well-known local physician and should be heeded by all who are subject to rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles and especially catarrh. While the latter is considered by most sufferers an incurable disease, there are few men or women who will fail to experience great relief from the following simple home prescription and if taken in time it may prevent an attack of catarrh during the entire season.

Here is the prescription which any one can mix: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

These are all vegetable ingredients and can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost.

The Compound Kargon in this prescription acts directly upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys to make them filter and strain from the blood the poisons that produce all forms of catarrhal affections. Relief is often felt even after the first few doses and it is seldom that a sufferer ever experiences a return attack within the year.

This prescription makes a splendid remedy for all forms of blood disorders and such symptoms as lame back, bladder weakness and rheumatism, pains are entirely dispelled.

As this valuable prescription comes from a thoroughly reliable source, it should be heeded by every afflicted reader.

to Butler's tent back of 513 1-2 Colorado avenue, Colorado City, and represented themselves as purchasers of second hand furniture. Butler thereupon showed them an enormous stock of furniture and household goods. The officials identified the articles as those described by Schneider as stolen from Briarhurst, and immediately placed Butler under arrest.

Alexander, the 32-year-old boy, was taken in charge by the sheriff and will be cared for pending the disposition of the case.

After the arrest of Mrs. Shirley and the startling denouement with regard to her sex, further investigation was made of Butler's premises and the Glasstown home of the Shirley's.

Property Worth $2,000.

Nearly $2,000 worth of goods was found in the two places, composing nearly a carload of merchandise. Two wagonloads of the most valuable articles were taken away by the officers yesterday and several loads remain. All are secured, however.

Among the stolen booty was a typewriter and other goods still in the case in which they were shipped from Las Vegas. Goods sent from Arizona and other points, with the Colorado City address still in the box, were found.

A kitchen range which was stolen from the home of C. E. Pond, 19 East Washington, this city, together with a valuable silk tapestry, cabinets and other antiques taken from other north end residences were found in the collection. Saddles, bridles and even kitchen utensils, were mixed with rare paintings.

A Thorough Loot Job.

Among the articles taken from Briarhurst are several pieces of European pottery and costly knickknacks of all kinds.

Scofield and Alward have worked so thoroughly on the case that they are confident of convicting the gang even without the evidence of the boy. They have in their charge a low spring wagon and two burros, which were used to take the Briarhurst plunder from the residence. The measurements of the tires of the wheels correspond exactly with those of the traced trail from Briarhurst to Butler's home on Colorado avenue, while the burros' hoofs fit exactly the imprints between the wagon trail.

Girl Plays Huckster.

From the evidence of Pat Alexander, it is learned that Mrs. Shirley, disguised as a huckster boy, went to elegantly furnished houses in the north end of this city, as well as in Manitou, ostensibly to sell "his" wares. "He" would then "get the lay of the land," in all houses where the occupants were absent, and would secure information regarding the probable length of absence of the owner or tenant.

Butler, the only adult male of the party physically able to cope with the situation, would then secure entrance into the house, with such aid as Mrs. Shirley and her crippled husband could give him.

In Robbers League.

The fact that several articles were shipped here from Las Vegas and other cities shows that the prisoners are in league with gangs in various parts of the southwest of the United States. It is also highly probable that thousands of dollars worth of local property has been stolen and shipped away. Many absent owners or tenants of houses in this city may have suffered serious depredation at the hands of the Shirleys and Butler. C. E. Pond, whose kitchen range was taken from his vacant house on East Washington street, was unaware that his property was stolen until it had been recovered.

Once Lived Here.

Mrs. Shirley says that her mother lived on Arlington street, this city, several years ago. She did not give her mother's name. She claims to have a father living in Pueblo, and to have lived in Leadville. She removed here last August from Las Vegas, N. M., with her husband. Butler formerly conducted a candy store in Las Vegas. He is said to have profited by the insurance on a mysterious fire in his store, leaving that city shortly afterward. He says that he is about to start a candy store in Colorado City.

Butler brought Pat Alexander from Las Vegas to this city three months ago. The boy's widowed mother was glad to have her son cared for, knowing nothing of Butler's connections.

The prisoners will probably be arraigned to day, although the hearing may be postponed pending further investigation by the sheriff's office.

RESTS ITS CASE

but it was generally rumored tonight that after a brief session adjournment will be asked and granted until Monday, that Mr. Jerome may mature his plans.

The sudden decision of the defense came after a conference of Thaw lawyers late this afternoon. It is understood Lawyers O'Reilly and Gleason were with Mr. Delmas during the discussion as to the best course to pursue. When an agreement was reached, Mr. Delmas immediately notified the district attorney. Henry C. McPike, associated with Mr. Delmas, later called at Mr. Jerome's office and it is believed handed the district attorney a [illegible] situation.

It is known that Mr. Delmas is busily at work on a hypothetical question which will be propounded to the experts for the state. Mr. Jerome's move in the morning is awaited with interest. There are numerous witnesses that could be called in rebuttal, including alienists for the state, who have been in court every day since the trial opened, studying Thaw. Howard Nesbit, a brother of Mrs. Harry Thaw, May McKenzie and others have been on call daily and may be summoned in the morning. The general supposition is, however, that adjournment will be taken.

It was understood tonight that the defense will attempt to conclude its cross-examination speedily, dealing very briefly with the alienists.

Evening of Activity.

It was an evening of activity in the district attorney's office. Assistant District Attorney Nott was called in for the first time since the opening of the trial, and with his chief and Assistant Garvan examined witnesses and went over the law authorities until a late hour.

The close of the defense was with the testimony of Mrs. William Thaw, mother of the defendant, and at today's conference, it is said, the attorneys decided no better climax could have been reached by the defense. Several of Thaw's attorneys visited him in the Tombs today, and he was notified of their decision and concurred.

Mrs. Harry Thaw visited her husband early today and remained a long while. She seemed bright and cheerful. Mrs. William Thaw and her daughters also visited Thaw.

Mr. O'Reilly, of Thaw's counsel, gave out a letter tonight which he said had been received by Thaw last month and which Thaw himself desired published. Thaw, however, refused to permit the name of the writer to be made known. The letter follows:

Thaw Had Good Associations.

February 9, 1907.

Dear Sir—It is wrong that nothing is done to counteract the impression that Mr. H. K. Thaw has lived apart from good associations except at his home in Pittsburg.

I hesitated in sending this information as his lawyers should dispel this bad feeling. Instead, they seem to pay attention to nothing beyond his right in the trial.

Mr. H. K. Thaw has not only learned friends and scientific friends, but also others of the most conservative society.

When last with his mother he gave dinners for her at which she met all the best elements of society in town, including the prime minister, the grand master of the court and their wives and the head of the best old Roman families. In Paris and London and other places he made her visit [illegible] manner.

Mrs. William Thaw would seldom leave her home and her philanthropic interests in Pittsburg, but I know of one occasion when she was present at a large dinner where the other guests were well known New Yorkers, including (the letter gives the names of men and women prominent in New York social life). I think (mentioning the names of other men and women equally prominent with the others) were among the guests.

The knowledge that Mr. Thaw had been but an irresponsible person before his terrible misfortune that may have at the most deprived him of reason temporarily, can have no effect prejudicial to this interest, I am sure, but may create some sympathy for the young man for whom I have always felt a sincere regard.

Very faithfully,

AN OLD FRIEND OF MRS. THAW'S.

P. S.—I believe this dinner was in the Waldorf's private rooms, about 1900.

ACQUIT STROTHER BROTHERS

Jury Brings in Verdict of "Not Guilty"—Announcement Greeted With Great Applause.

CULPEPER, Va., March 7.—After being out one hour and a half, the jury in the case of James and Philip Strother, on trial for the murder of William F. Bywaters, returned a verdict of not guilty at 11:10 a. m. The Strother case was given to the jury at 9:30 a. m.

The most trying test of the ordeal for the defendants came this morning in awaiting a verdict. The strain was more apparent on the face of Philip Strother, the younger defendant. James apparently was confident of a favorable verdict. He sat in silence, listening to the comments of his counsel, and occasionally offering words of consolation to his wife, who sat at his side.

As the minutes sped by, the situation became more strained, many in the court room taking the delay as an unfavorable sign to the accused.

When the jurymen finally filed into the room, the silence was intense.

"Gentlemen of the jury," asked the clerk, "have you agreed upon your verdict?"

"We have," replied Foreman Price, handing the verdict to the court officer.

"We find the defendants, James and Philip Strother, not guilty," was the message read by the clerk.

The announcement was the signal for an outburst of applause, which Judge Harrison quickly silenced. James Strother reached for the hand of Mr. [illegible] and Philip was quickly surrounded by their friends. Mrs. James Strother, overcome by emotion, fell forward into her husband's arms sobbing and exclaiming her thanks.

When the effects of the critical moment had passed, Judge Harrison addressed the jury as follows:

"Gentlemen of the jury, I thank you for a verdict which I think will be approved by the public. It is an established precedent in the state of Virginia that no man tried for defending the sanctity of his home should be found guilty."

After further words of approval from the bench, the jurymen left the court room.

Rock Island Train Plunges Into Sand Bank—No Lives Lost.

TOPEKA, March 7.—Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific passenger train No. 28, from Denver to Chicago, ran through an open switch just west of the Topeka yards this afternoon and five cars and the locomotive were derailed. The derailed cars plunged into a sand bank and did not turn over. About 20 passengers and employes were bruised. The only car that remained on the track was the diner.

NATURE PROVIDES FOR SICK WOMEN

a more potent remedy in the roots and herbs of the field than was ever produced from drugs.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicines and Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., in her study of roots and herbs and their power over disease discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an honest, tried and true remedy of unquestionable therapeutic value.

During its record of more than thirty years, its long list of actual cures of those serious ills peculiar to women, entitles Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to the respect and confidence of every fair minded person and every thinking woman.

When women are troubled with irregular or painful functions, weakness, displacements, ulceration or inflammation, backache, flatulency, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

No other remedy in the country has such a record of cures of female ills, and thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable compound and what it has done for them.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. For twenty-five years she has been advising sick women free of charge. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and as her assistant for years before her decease advised under her immediate direction. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Japanese Deserter From Mexican Railroad, Now Dead, Was Hired by Home Government.

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, March 7.—One of the Japanese who deserted the construction camps of the Mexican Central railroad, died a few days ago at the Santo Domingo mine of the Ampara Mining company, in the Etzian district of this state. His papers were turned over to the general manager of the company, and it was found he was a military engineer in the employ of the Japanese government. Before his death the Japanese engineer stated that he was on his way to the United States.

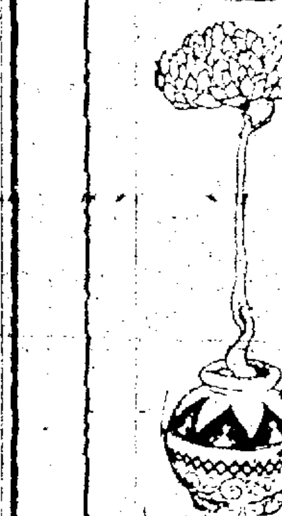

Of the 1,100 Japanese landed in the last three months for work on the Mexican Central railroad, only 250 remain. The others deserted and many of them are now in the United States. One of the interpreters of the Japanese workmen was correspondent of one of the leading Tokio newspapers during the war with Russia. Another is the son of a high government official in Tokio.

NEW STRIKE IN NEVADA

Copper Ledges Extending Distance of Five Miles Found at Acme. Seventy Per Cent Copper.

TONOPAH, Nev., March 7.—News of another reported strike reached Tonopah last night, about 4 o'clock, and immediately mining men and prospectors got together their mining outfits and made all possible haste for the station to be on hand for the evening train. The new strike was made at a blind siding on the railroad between Luning and Thorne, called Acme. Copper ledges from 10 to 90 feet in width, than can be traced for five miles, have been found. Assays that have been made show the ore to be from 65 to 70 per cent copper. About 60 of Tonopah's prominent citizens left on last evening's train for the new copper fields.

"NOT GUILTY" IS PLEA

MAYOR SCHMITZ APPEARS BEFORE JUDGE DUNNE.

Success Is With Prosecution in Case Against Ruef—Attorney Has Not Yet Been Located.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Mayor Eugene Schmitz appeared before Superior Judge Dunne today and pleaded not guilty to four indictments charging him with extortion. By agreement of counsel next Monday was designated as the time when a date for his trial will be set.

Success was with the prosecution at almost every turn in today's developments in the Ruef extortion case. The most notable instance was in the district court of appeals, where Justices Cooper, Hall and Kerrigan denied Ruef's application for a writ of prohibition to restrain Judge Dunne from any further proceedings against Ruef in the superior court, pending the determination of the accused man's appeal to the supreme court of the United States for a permanent writ of error, the effect of which, if granted, would be to summarily postpone the entire prosecution.

While the attorneys for Ruef, who is still in hiding supposedly in or near San Francisco, were hopefully awaiting the decision of the appeal court, Judge Dunne proceeded with the [illegible] cases of perjury and conspiracy against Ruef and Chief of Police Dinan. He was obdurate to the endeavors of Attorney Shortridge to win delay for Ruef. Motions to strike the case from the files and to set aside the indictments were denied, and to escape the imminent necessity of pleading at once, Ruef's counsel entered a demurrer which had been previously prepared to meet this emergency should it arise. Arguments on this were set for tomorrow morning.

Coroner Walsh, delegated in Sheriff O'Neill's stead to apprehend Ruef, after the court had declared the sheriff incompetent, was given until tomorrow morning to make good. Failing then, Judge Dunne will probably appoint an elisor to bring the fugitive into court.

Shortly before 5 o'clock this evening counsel for Ruef made application to the state supreme court for the same writ of prohibition refused earlier in the day by the district court of appeals. Pending the determination of this move, it is the purpose of Judge Dunne to go right ahead with the case, and it is the intention of counsel for the defense not to produce Ruef in Judge Dunne's court while the matter thus stands.

The district court of appeals handed down no written opinion in refusing Ruef's application for a writ of prohibition, but after the denial had been entered, Justices Cooper, Hall and Kerrigan made the following statement:

"We have denied the application, because the writ of error did not lie in Judge Hebbard's court and because there was no ground for debate."

The assistant district attorney said: "We are not greatly exercised about the disappearance of Ruef; he is not far away. And if the coroner does not bring him into court at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, I shall request the court to appoint an elisor. We shall get Ruef into court."

RIVAL FASHION CENTERS.

Several Cities Struggle for Supremacy in Styles.

From the [illegible]

The Rue de la Paix is not much alarmed at the prospect of being ousted by New York and its college of dressmakers. It has heard that kind of thing before. "The Gotham" is a plant indigenous to Paris. You can not bed it out in other parts without doing damage to the growth. In that little region dominated by the column Vendome you find the right kind of atmosphere for the proper production of women's clothes. The designers there work [illegible], artists ready to catch inspiration from every [illegible] in the capital, and they are aided by hosts of little work girls, who are unsurpassed at the [illegible] and taste. Mimi Pinson does not emigrate to Broadway or [illegible] to Regent street. If she does she ceases to be Mimi Pinson. It is the city of Paris and the traditional deftness of its [illegible] inhabitants that produce the mode. Paris already suffers from Berlin, not that is a disloyal competition basing itself on the early capture of a [illegible] the supremacy of Paris. It is merely the homage that the dishonest pays to the [illegible].

It is a fact that some concern has been given to the leaders and designers of [illegible] feminine clothing by the [illegible] of Berlin as a center for the [illegible] of the buyers and designers from other parts of the world. For a long time the American representatives of the large houses have gone first to Berlin and there made the greater part of their selections and on their return made a short call at Paris, more for the purpose of saying that they had been there than to buy. It was generally conceded that Berlin was far in advance of Paris styles.

The explanation of this was found to be in the fact that Paris designers and manufacturers had themselves been responsible for this condition of affairs and have only recently taken steps with a view to checking this serious rivalry on the part of the great German capital.

This condition grew out of the custom inaugurated some time ago by the Parisians of sending their earliest models to Berlin. The buyers soon discovered this and instead of going directly to the fountain head of fashion they found it desirable to go to Berlin and in this manner obtained an advantage over their fellow buyers who waited for the Paris expositions. Not long ago the Parisians realized the condition of affairs which threatened the supremacy of Paris in this respect and they have agreed to discontinue the custom so that in the future Berlin will have to take her chances with the other cities.

WORD FILLS FOUR LINES

Marvel of Sesquipedality the Work of the Greek Aristophanes.

From the Chicago Chronicle.

Fortunately for the celerity of speech, words of seventy syllables are not frequently met. If they were most persons would doubtless walk around rather than through them and none would question the discretion of such evasion. The jaw-breakers hereto appended are not recommended to general use nor should they be taken in any but homeopathic doses.

The first offered is said to be the longest word in the English language, used often in old plays and placed in the mouth of Costard, the clown in "Love's Labor's Lost," act 5, scene 1. "Honorificabilitudinitatibus."

The next is "Pilgrim on the Rhine," by Bulwer, "[illegible]."

The next from Rabelais, "[illegible]."

The next is the name of an office recently in Madrid, Don Juan Nepomuceno De [illegible].

The next is a town in the Isle of Man, "[illegible]."

The next, "[illegible]."

"[illegible]" and "[illegible]" are two words that recently appeared in the London Times and Star.

"[illegible]" and "[illegible]" are the names of two productions of Sanscrit literature.

The last word is the longest in any language. It may be found in the "Ekklesiazousai" of Aristophanes, a very excellent comedy, and placed in the mouth of one of the actors. It consists of 149 letters and makes 77 syllables and must have created some laughter when spoken.

What President Roosevelt Says About Non-Partisan City Government.

"The worst evils that affect our local governments arise from, and are the inevitable result of, the mixing up of city affairs with party politics of the nation and state. The lines upon which national parties divide have no necessary connection with the business of the city. Such connections open the way to complete schemes of public plunder and civil corruption."—Theodore Roosevelt.

MUNICIPAL LIGHTING.

A FEW days ago we discussed [illegible]

[illegible] wish to emphasize the point made in one editorial last Sunday that it is one thing to build or buy a lighting plant, and quite another thing to operate it successfully. If the people of Colorado Springs decide to go into the lighting business in competition with the Electric company, they must decide at the same time, finally and without qualification, to keep their lighting plant absolutely out of politics. This means that they must choose their aldermen and other city officials just as a railroad or other large corporation choses its own officials—for business capacity and not for political reasons. They must do it, not once, but at every succeeding election, for it would be a serious matter to have the efficient work of one business-like City Council set at naught by the incompetency and perhaps dishonesty of a succeeding Council.

[illegible]

For these reasons we advise the people to vote for both of the municipal lighting proposals to be submitted at the coming election.

FAMOUS ARTIST HERE

SALZBRENNER, GREAT ARTIST, VISITS SPRINGS.

Will Spend Several Months Enjoying Colorado Climate and Scenery. Judge Hallett's Picture.

One of the world's best known portrait painters of the present age, Albert Salzbrenner of New York, is stopping at the Antlers hotel, in Colorado Springs, and will spend part of the summer in Colorado Springs and its vicinity. Mr. Salzbrenner is exhibiting a life-size painting of Judge Hallett of Denver, formerly federal judge.

The portrait of Judge Hallett, which is done in oil, is a rare work of art. Only a great artist could have placed on canvas with such accuracy the features of a man as the features of Judge Hallett are shown in the painting. One of the strongest features of the painting lies in the skill with which the hands were painted. The entire picture is so life-like that one almost feels as if he were standing before a living man instead of a framed portrait.

Painted Victor Hugo.

Mrs. Salzbrenner has the distinction of being the artist who painted the last authentic portrait from life of Victor Hugo, the great French novelist. The portrait was done by Mr. Salzbrenner six months before the author died. When only a boy, he began his studies in Dresden and later studied in Paris. He centered his efforts on portrait painting, and reached the height of his achievements in 1885, when his picture of Victor Hugo was exhibited in the salon at Paris. From that time he took his place among the great portrait artists of the world. In 1889, Mr. Salzbrenner came to the United States for the first time, and located in New York city. He came to Denver a short time ago, where he painted portraits of Judge Hallett, Dean Hart and a number of others.

Mr. Salzbrenner will spend a great part of the spring and summer in Colorado Springs, instead of going to Europe, as has been his custom. He will return to Denver this evening, after which he will go to New York city for a few days and then return to Colorado Springs. Today he will visit the Garden of the Gods. While in this city, Mr. Salzbrenner will do a limited number of landscape pictures and [illegible].

GETS LEASE ON CLARA

A. E. HUMPHREYS MAKES DEAL WITH WORK CO.

Contract to Lessee Is for Two and One-half Years and 200-Foot Shaft Will Be Sunk.

A. E. Humphreys, a Denver mining man, was awarded a lease of two and one-half years on the famous Little Clara claim of the Work Mining and Milling company, at a special meeting of the directors in the local offices of the company yesterday afternoon.

The royalties range from 15 to 60 per cent, according to the grade of ore. The lessee, in addition, agrees to pay 25 per cent of his net profits to the Work company. He further stipulates to sink a shaft on the property 200 feet, beginning in the Moffat tunnel. This tunnel, from which most of the property has been worked, is 400 feet below the surface, so that Humphreys will develop the claim to a depth of 600 feet. The working of 250 shifts of men per month is also agreed on in the new contract.

Marsh and Hodges, whose lease on the property will expire March 15, have extracted ore to the value of almost $1,000,000. The Little Clara claim comprises 9.4 acres on Gold hill. In the district court recently, E. J. Knight lost his suit for approximately $100,000 against F. R. Marsh and associates, for an accounting of the profits of the bonanza lease in which he was originally interested.

Work stock jumped from 16 to 20 on the exchange yesterday, due to a report that the new lease would be granted on excellent terms. Marsh and Hodges paid only 20 per cent flat royalties. They took hold of the property before ore was discovered. J. Arthur Connell of this city is president of the Work company.

REPORT OF EL PASO LODGE

Annual Statement Shows Good Financial Condition and Members Working for Temple.

The fifteenth annual report of El Paso lodge No. 13, A. F. & A. M., just issued by Secretary Eugene S. Cohen, shows that the Masonic year just closed has been the most successful in the history of the local lodge. It has been one of great financial success, there being now in the general fund of the lodge $850.81, and $817 have been placed in the hands of the trustees. All debts are paid, and the lodge commences the year in splendid condition.

During the past year a total of twenty-four new members has been taken in by initiation, affiliation or reinstatement, and nine members have been lost by death. The members are enthusiastically working in the project for the erection of a new temple, and the coming year promises to be even more successful than the last.

NO GAG RULES USED

STATEMENTS UNTRUE, SAYS PROMINENT DEMOCRATS

E. W. Frost Had the Lead From the Start in Eighth Ward and Purcell Expected Defeat.

"The statement in the evening paper quoting M. W. Purcell with regard to the Democratic caucus for alderman of the Eighth ward Wednesday night is extremely misleading, even for an attorney," [illegible] M. Tusker, 326 West Pikes Peak avenue, chairman of the caucus; G. H. Smyth, 114 [illegible] avenue, and [illegible], members of the Democratic city central committee.

The three Democrats quoted last night authorized the above statement, in addition to an interview [illegible] the caucus.

Purcell is quoted as saying that gag rules were adopted by the regular Democrats Wednesday night. He said that a resolution was passed allowing any candidate with 10 votes to go before the primaries for alderman, and that many of his friends on this resolution left the caucus.

The friends of E. W. Frost, the caucus aldermanic candidate, according to Purcell, then rescinded the resolution, after sufficient of Purcell's friends had departed to give Frost a majority.

No Resolution Passed.

Mr. Tusker, chairman of the caucus, said:

"In the first place, if Purcell's friends were in the majority at first, why was I, a Frost man, elected chairman on the first vote? Again, it is not true that a resolution was passed allowing any candidate with 10 votes to go before the primaries. No resolution to that effect was introduced.

"We discussed the matter, and discovered that the Democratic caucus rules permitted any candidate, on petition of 10 voters, to go before the primaries, after proper filing with the chairman of the city central committee. Frost's friends were in the majority from the start, and after he was elected by a majority I declared him the caucus candidate for alderman.

"Moreover, Purcell appeared to be so certain of defeat that he actually came to the caucus with a blank petition ready, which he had his friends sign, in order that he might present it to the committee chairman and thus go before the primaries."

F. F. Noxon and G. H. Smyth corroborated the above interview.

REVIEWS PARSONS ARTICLE

"Earliest Life of Milton" Is Favorably Received by Noted English Authorities.

A recent number of the Journal of English and Germanic Philology contains a review of a study by Professor E. S. Parsons of Colorado college. This is the "Earliest Life of Milton," published in the Historical Review. Professor Parsons' interesting article, the result of much original research, is favorably reviewed by Professor Charles G. Osgood of Yale university.

Professor [illegible] has just presented to the college library a bound volume of published studies in linguistics. These are an article on pronunciation, written in the Spanish language and published by Harvard university; an article on modern Spanish and Spanish-American literature in the Colorado college studies; a study of Canadian French and a study of New Mexican Spanish, these two being published by the Modern Language association of America.

NEW Y. M. C. A. IS PROJECTED

Secretary Hall Assists in Raising $40,000 for Building at Grand Junction.

Charles R. Hall, general secretary of the Colorado Springs Y. M. C. A., has just returned from Grand Junction where he went last Saturday to assist in inaugurating a campaign for $40,000 to be used in erecting an association building in that city. The campaign will close March 18. On Monday, the first day of the campaign, the workers secured $16,000. State Secretary Bilheimer is in charge of the movement to raise funds for the building. Mr. Hall spoke twice on Sunday and once Monday night.

HYDRO SETTLEMENT DELAYED

Floy and Elliott Can Not Agree on Technical Points.

The meeting of the three arbitrators in the Hydro controversy, which was to have been held in Detroit or Chicago next Monday, will probably be postponed, owing to a dissension between Messrs. Floy and Elliott, the New York members of the board, on certain technical points involved.

It is the intention of Professor L. G. Carpenter, the third arbitrator, to join the other two as soon as they have practically agreed. A decision may then be reached at a joint conference.

PERSONAL MENTION

A. N. Oliver of Denver was in the city yesterday, on railroad business.

Mrs. H. H. Schlemmilge went to Denver yesterday, to remain for a few days.

John H. Pape, a mining broker of this city, who has been looking after interests in Nevada, has returned.

Miss Gertrude Hill, who has been visiting relatives in this city for some months, has gone to Trinidad, Colo., for a few days, and will then return to her home in Marshalltown, Iowa.

C. F. Osborne, traveling passenger agent of the Erie railroad, with headquarters in Denver, and H. C. Holabird of Chicago, general passenger agent of the road, were in Colorado Springs yesterday on a business trip.

NO REASON FOR SLUMP

S. S. BERNARD SAYS EL PASO IS ALL RIGHT.

Somebody Is Dumping Stock in Quantities Too Large for Little Exchange.

"There is no reason for the slump in El Paso stock, except the fact that when something like 20,000 shares are dumped on the local market any stock is bound to come down," said S. S. Bernard, president of the El Paso Gold Mining company, last night when questioned about the situation in El Paso, [illegible] the [illegible] of dumping men on the local exchange.

"If you dumped $20 gold pieces on the market and there were not enough people with ready money to buy they would naturally have to be sold for less than their face value. That illustrates the present situation in El Paso stock. A mine that has produced about $900,000 in a single year and has thousands of tons of ore now in sight surely has no legitimate reason for having its stock slump. But I do not care to say too much at present as our annual meeting will be held next Monday and I will have my annual report to present to the stockholders."

NEWS OF THE LOCAL COURTS

Undersheriff George Dayton yesterday morning arrested E. Coilleux, formerly chauffeur for Spencer Penrose, on a charge of stealing a sable boa, valued at more than $500, from his former employer. A warrant is out for the arrest of Henry Hawkins, supposed to be implicated in the deal.

Mrs. Penrose's boa was taken from the automobile last December. Hawkins returned the property and received the advertised reward of $25. Later developments led to a suspicion that Coilleux stole the fur and gave it to Hawkins, the pair dividing the reward.

Convicted in Justice Ruby's court yesterday morning on a charge of cruelty to animals, L. Sutherland, of Manitou, proprietor of a feed store near Adams Crossing, was fined $10 and costs, a total of $14.85. The defendant admitted shooting a water spaniel puppy four times, leaving the animal in agony, because it persisted in coming to his home in Manitou. Humane Agent Neff, who arrested Sutherland, is determined to vigorously prosecute all cases of cruelty to animals.

H. C. Smith has been arrested by the police on a charge of stealing parts of sewing machines while ostensibly repairing the machines.

In the Jennie Sample-Cone case, on trial in the district court, Expert J. F. Smith, of Cripple Creek, was on the stand all day yesterday. His testimony was not concluded when court adjourned.

Emma L. Burgner has filed suit in the county court for divorce from Charles E. Burgner, alleging nonsupport. The couple were married in Colorado Springs six years ago.

James F. Burns yesterday filed in district court a petition for an alternative writ of mandamus citing the Colorado Springs Electric company into court to show cause why its books and records should not be open to Burns' inspection. Judge W. S. Morris granted the alternative writ of mandamus, it being returnable March 28. On that day the case will be heard on its merits.

Exports of lard from Rio Grande do Sul from January to September of 1906 amounted to 10,737,930 pounds, and the industry is growing rapidly. The prices secured have been from 8½ to 1½ cents gold per pound. The lard and pork product industry of Rio Grande do Sul is one of the most promising industries of Brazil.

What all the World's A Seeking— The Wealth of Health

Chemists of international reputation tell us that properly made tea is distinctly beneficial, both as a pleasing means of carrying water through the system, and as a tonic for wearied brain and muscles.

And doctors insist that few of us consume liquid enough to keep the body in good working order.

Flavor, strength and delicacy are the qualities that determine the value of a tea. The fact that teas have widely varying values suggests, therefore, that there must be good teas, indifferent teas, and poor grade teas; besides teas that are old and worthless, and teas that are cheap.

We pride ourselves on our tea values, and wish to demonstrate the truth of our assertion that our teas are the best the market affords.

For Instance—There's a wealth of health in the using of our

That the People May Know

We have purchased this space in The Gazette.

That which shall appear in this space from day to day hereafter will be issued direct from our office.

This announcement is made in order that there may be no misapprehension on the part of the public as to who is responsible for the statements made.

This plan of reaching the public has been adopted in order to tell the exact facts regarding electric lighting in Colorado Springs.

The company has remained silent for many months, thinking that the unjust, unwarranted and malicious attacks against the Colorado Springs Electric Company carried their own refutation along with them.

Many have construed this silence as an admission that the company is guilty of all the charges hurled against it; that it is in fact robbing the city and its residents and that it is now and for years has been making enormous profits.

The effort is now make to confiscate the enormous investments made by the stockholders of this company upon which they are not now making nor never have made even a fair return.

This attempt is made either in ignorance or in malice.

We shall present the facts fairly and, we hope, impartially to the intelligence of this community.

Nothing to be covered from your inspection.

No statement will be made which cannot be verified.

All questions growing out of an honest desire for enlightment which may be addressed to the company by any resident of Colorado Springs will be fairly and frankly answered.

We shall make our appeal to the voters of this municipality as an impartial jury.

Is we are guilty as charged, the verdict must and should be against us.

If we are not guilty, then we ask your verdict to that effect, in order that we may be permitted to transact business in this community on a fair basis enjoying equal rights and equal protection with other individuals, firms and corporations which have done and which are still doing what they can to upbuild Colorado Springs and make it a place where capital may seek investment and be protected against fanaticism which has elsewhere driven capital from the field of active operations and wrecked municipalities.

SOCIETIES AND CLUBS

Rehearsals are now going on in All Souls' church for the Elizabethan songs and dances to be given at the benefit entertainment of the Actors' Church alliance to be given on the evening of April 1, in the Antlers ball room. The members of the alliance and their friends are taking considerable interest in the affair and it is thought that the program will merit a large patronage.

The second recital of American music will be given by the Colorado Springs Musical club next Monday afternoon beginning at 3:30 o'clock, in Perkins hall. An outline of the program will be given by Frederick Ayres Johnson and the numbers will be as follows:

Sonata for violin and piano, Mrs. Thatcher and Miss Nichols.

Song cycle, "April Heart," Mrs. Seldomridge.

Symbolistic study, "Flower Seekers," Miss Nichols.

Songs, "Deck Not With Gems," "Ah! 'Tis But a Dream," Miss Comstock.

Japanese cicada dream, Ladies' Double quartet. Members of quartet—Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Seldomridge, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Jackson, Miss Baker, Miss Comstock, Miss Graves, Mrs. Perry, Miss Stevenson.

The Pirate's Isle (of Henry T. Gilbert) Dr. C. G. Woolsey.

The Pythian Sisters, Hermione temple, No. 1, will hold a "penny social," in the Knights of Pythias hall, tomorrow evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

A social will be given this evening in the Roywild chapel. There will be a literary and musical program and the ladies will serve ice cream and cake. The social is for any one who may wish to attend.

Section 4 of the First Christian church will meet with Mrs. Gammond, 31 South Corona street, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The Qui Vive club meets Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Arthur White, at her home, 319 North Nevada avenue.

The Willing 20 of the First Congregational church will have a candy sale and exhibit of ancient garments, quilts, china, etc., at the residence of Mrs. E. S. Parsons, 1139 Wood avenue, Tuesday March 12, from 3 to 5 p. m.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Second Presbyterian church will give its quarterly tea at the home of Mrs. Thomas, 125 Washington avenue, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. All ladies are invited.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church will be held with Mrs. Spicer, 423 North Weber street, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of electing officers.

A meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the First Baptist church will be held at the home of Mrs. T. J. Fisher, 1316 North Nevada avenue, at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The ladies of Mrs. Ashton's section of the First Baptist church will meet at 114 East Willamette avenue at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

DESTRUCTIVE PRAIRIE FIRE

Country Homes and Many Tons of Hay Burned Along Arkansas.

PUEBLO, Colo., March 7.—A special to the Chieftain from Holly, Colo., says:

The prairie fire at Lyon, along the Arkansas river, yesterday destroyed three farm houses and thousands of tons of hay.

The total loss was approximately $3,500. It was not finally extinguished until this morning, it having practically burned itself out or reached plowed ground.

The two Washburn boys were seriously burned while fighting the fire, and it is rumored here that a small child was so seriously burned that it will lose its eyesight, but the rumor was unconfirmed.

MAKING A COMEDIAN

Actors Win Laughter by Peculiarities of Face and Dress.

From the Chicago Chronicle.

Eddie Foy's face is funny. So are Frank Wilson's legs. So is Frank Daniels' face, and so are also the gestures he makes with his short arms. Funny are the parti-colored stockings that May Robson wears. Funny is the queer little voice that Katie Barry employs. Funny is John C. Slavin's mouselike demeanor on the stage, and as funny is De Wolf Hopper's ponderous burlesque dignity. Funny are the imitations that Nat Goodwin gives and none of them is funnier than his imitation of himself.

There are a thousand ways of being funny on the stage. The man that finds a new way has his fortune made. Dave Warfield, who is "The Music Master" is bringing both laughter and tears, found that the way for him to get a chance to be as funny on the stage of the old Casino in New York as he wanted to be was for him to make up and go out and sell small cakes of ice in the audience at a baseball game between actors.

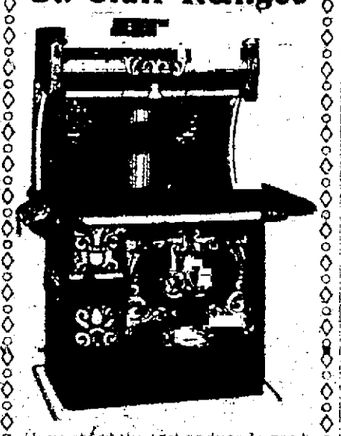

Eddie Foy always wears a funny hat. His gestures are part of his fine technique and he talks a song so that every word stands out as if it were printed on the curtain. Low Dockstader is unctuous and oily. His words are soft and his delivery is smooth. He glides along with his comedy as though it were on rubber tires. James Thornton, one of the funniest men in vaudeville, tells his comedy at the audience. Ezra Kendall talks fast, but Charlie Case talks faster, and he never waits for the audience to catch up with him.

George Cohan talks through his nose on the stage not much more than he does off, and he drawls. Jamie Morton drawls and the last word of each of his sentences, like the first word of each of Cohan's, is long drawn out.

Cecil Lean has the funniest walk on the stage. As teeth they are perfect singly and collectively, but they are funny because Lean can smile so expansively and with such a show of genuine good feeling that he get his audience to smiling with him as broadly as though he spoke some exceedingly funny line, and in that measure his teeth are a valuable asset to him.

SIGNS TWO CENT MILE BILL

Governor of Nebraska Attaches Signature to Measure Against His Better Judgment.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 7.—The two-cent per mile railroad law, which went into effect in Nebraska today, was signed by Governor Sheldon only a few minutes before midnight when it would have become a law without the governor's signature.

He said today:

"I do not now and I did not in my campaign believe in the passage of a two-cent fare law. I do not believe that such a law is likely to stand the test of the courts in all cases. It might do so on the big main lines but there are smaller roads in the state on which the earnings are so small that the law would be declared inoperative because not compensatory."

Simply Swallow

Many Eat as Though They Were Blind and Their Tongues Cut Out.

Dyspepsia is built on confidence—too much confidence in the ability of your stomach to digest anything and everything you put into it.

In this age we have developed speed in every line of action, and we have also developed speed in mastication.

We don't take time to eat right, and sometimes we do not eat the right kind of food. Sometimes we carry our business to our meals, and as a result, eat mechanically. We eat as though we were blind and our tongues cut out. We simply swallow.

The result is that the food we eat is half chewed and lies like a lump of lead on the stomach.

You may deny to yourself that you abuse your stomach, but when you get a bloaty feeling, you can't deny you've got it.

When you get brash, eructations, burning sensations, bloating, aversion to food, loss of appetite, belching and other kindred ailments, there is not much use asking yourself, for the thousandth time, why you suffer. The fact is, you've got these ailments, and the question of the hour is how to get rid of them at once, so that at your next meal you may be able to sit down and look at your meal straight in the face with a keen appetite and a smile, and enjoy thoroughly everything you eat.

Just one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest an ordinary meal, without the help of the stomach. One ingredient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food. The strongest stomach couldn't do the work any better than one of these wonderful little Tablets can do it.

Each tablet contains the strongest digestive agents it is possible to obtain.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a patent medicine. We come out and say just what is in them—hydrastis, golden seal, lactose and aseptic pepsin. They are recommended by 40,000 licensed physicians in the United States and Canada.

And they are recommended by everyone who uses them—they can't help it, for they immediately invigorate the stomach by letting it take a rest; they strengthen the gastric juice and cause the appetite to become keen and regular.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will surely destroy dyspepsia, brash, belching, that "lump of lead" feeling, burning sensations, indigestion, loss of appetite, and aversion to food.

Have Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets handy where you can take one or two after each meal. Then you will know what a blessing it is to have a good appetite and to get all the good possible out of everything you eat. You'll feel rosy and sweet. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store on earth, 50c.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 56 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

OPERA HOUSE ATTRACTIONS

What the Press Agents Say

LORCH IN "DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE" TONIGHT

The attraction at the Opera house this evening will be Theodore Lorch, supported by an excellent company, in Louis Stevenson's great drama, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." Mr. Lorch presented this great play one night during his last engagement in our city to a large house, and is presenting it again by special request. The play is well cast, and Mr. Lorch is well liked in the part of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," by all who have witnessed the performance. He will no doubt be greeted by a good house this evening. Mr. Lorch will close his present engagement at the Opera house tomorrow, giving two performances, matinee and night. The play selected is a popular western comedy drama, "Nobody's Claim." Popular prices are being charged. Matinee, adults 50c, children 25c. Evening, 25c, 35c, 50c and 75c. The general verdict of those who have attended the performances this week is, "that they are the best ever given in this city at the prices."

SEATS FOR "THE TENDERFOOT"

Probably the wittiest operatic comedy that is touring the country, as well as one of the most tuneful, will be seen at the Opera house next Monday evening, when Richard Carle's and H. L. Heath's great success, "The Tenderfoot," will be the big attraction. The sale of seats for this big musical production will open at the Opera house this morning. The music of "The Tenderfoot" is particularly swinging and characteristic, while the scene of the opera, Texas, makes it possible for the management to furnish particularly bright and attractive costumes. The Mexicans and senoritas mingle with cowboys and cowgirls, Texas rangers, soldiers and Indians. Oscar L. Figman and Ruth White, two of the greatest musical comedy artists in the country, are the stars of the organization, and they have scored heavily in the piece in Chicago. The chorus is a large one, the company numbering 50 people. The music finds expression in "My Alamo Love," "The Tale of the Tortured Thomas Cat," "Adios," "The Soldiery," "Only a Kiss," "I'm a Soldier of Fortune," "Fascinating Venus," "I'm a Peaceable Party," and in the great finale of the second act, when the Texas rangers sally forth to meet the Indians in deadly combat. "The Tenderfoot" is an operatic comedy of the great west and the environment is in itself a revelation of this class of entertainment.

THE ALAMO GIRLS IN "THE TENDERFOOT," BOOKED TO APPEAR AT THE OPERA HOUSE MONDAY EVENING.

CASES ABRUPTLY ENDED

Alleged Violation of Immigration Laws Comes to Naught.

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 7.—The trial of Edward A. Smith and Sumner Sargent, Charlotte mill men charged with violation of the immigration laws, was abruptly ended today by Judge Boyd in directing the jury to find in favor of the defendants. The action was taken on motion of counsel for the government.

It was alleged in the complaints that the cotton mill owners employed Costello to go to England to hire laborers for the mills, and that, in pursuance of this agreement, Costello went and, by promises, contracts and agreements, secured the consent of the aliens to come to America. It was also alleged that Costello prepaid their passage. There were only one of the aliens who came to work in the mills in and around Charlotte.

Official statistics shows that 15 people lost their lives while climbing the Alps last year. The total number of killed and injured is at least 250.

MILL FOR THE ANNIE C MINE

Lost Lillie Company Figuring on Erection of 100-Ton Stamp Plant, Good Values Produced.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, March 7.—The Lost Lillie Mining and Leasing company, operating a long-time lease on the Annie C. claim, on the southeast slope of Copper mountain, is now figuring on the erection of a 100-ton stamp mill of the latest process. The company has been tramming its ore 1,100 feet to a mill in the vicinity, but it is found to be too long a distance, and a mill will likely be built this summer.

The Annie C. mine is the only one of its kind in the Cripple Creek district. One four-foot vein [illegible] of lead, silver and zinc are found which give values in carload lots of from $40 to $50 in gold to the ton. The present company sunk a shaft to a depth of 150 feet, where drifting on ore is in progress. In the incline shaft even a better showing is to be found than in the vertical shaft. The Lost Lillie company is composed of local people.

TEMONJ IS SHOWING WELL

Three-Ounce Ore Being Taken Out by Lessee Darnell.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, March 7.—Lessee D. O. Darnell, operating on the Temonj, on Gold Hill, is breaking about four feet of ore with machine drills, and the ore is running between two and three ounces in gold to the ton. The ore is found at a depth of 100 feet. Mr. Darnell took hold of this property only a few months ago, and almost immediately [illegible] good ore. The Temonj had been idle for several years. Lessee Darnell is shipping about two cars of ore a week, and it will run about $50.

MAY BUY THE GOLDEN WEDGE

Colorado Springs Parties Said to Be Figuring on the Purchase of Old Cripple Creek Property.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, March 7.—There is a rumor to the effect that the Golden Wedge property is being examined by Colorado Springs parties with a view to purchasing this well known Raven hill property, which is controlled by Judge Colburn of Denver. The shaft on the Golden Wedge was sunk to a depth of 500 feet by Messrs. Colburn and Winchester several years ago. Large ore bodies, some fully twenty feet wide, were found, but the formation was all oxidized and had an average value of $12 to $16. At that time this grade of ore was not considered profitable, and after blocking out several thousand tons, the lease was surrendered. It is believed, with the great reduction in treatment charges, that the mine can now be worked at a profit, and certain Colorado Springs people are said to be negotiating for it. While the price is not known it is presumed to be in the neighborhood of $[illegible]. One of the best plants of machinery in the district is to be found on the Golden Wedge.

WILL START CROSSCUTTING

Lessees of Forest Queen Have Completed Work of Sinking Shaft.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, March 7.—Superintendent Oscar Fogleman of the Forest Queen mine, on Ironclad hill, has just completed the work of sinking the shaft to a depth of 100 feet, and will start at once to drive a crosscut north and east a distance of 250 feet to get under the ore opened [illegible] above.

The Forest Queen property has only been shipping about three cars of ore a week since sinking has been in progress, but now that this work is completed, it is expected that the tonnage will be practically doubled. There is an immense stope on the 500-foot level, and different grade ores are being shipped, but the general average is slightly less than two ounces.

ROCKAFELLOW RANCH SOLD

Chicago Syndicate Will Build Mill and Install Roasters at Once.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, March 7.—The B. B. B. company, a Chicago syndicate, has paid $8,000 for the Rockafellow ranch, located some few miles south of Victor. Some little work has been done, and several low-grade ore shoots have been found from which assays running from $3 to $40 in gold to the ton have been secured. The company expects to build a mill and install roasters immediately. The mill will probably cost in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Stock in Demand

10,000 shares sold today as a result of first advertising. All that investors want, to become interested in mining stock, is to know they are getting just what is represented to them. We tell you nothing that we can not back. To investigate our proposition is to invest. See to it that you do so today, for the block of 100,000 shares is going rapidly, and all stock will positively be removed when this is gone.

A report today from our men in charge of the work in Nevada is encouraging in the extreme, giving a recent mill test of low-grade ore, showing a value of $48.80 per ton. This is especially promising, as it shows we are increasing in value as we go deeper.

Don't be skeptical. Invest today and watch your returns.

AGITATION SUBSIDES

VOLUME OF STOCK TRADING DIMINISHES.

Nervous Fluctuations of Prices Show the After Effects of Exciting Turmoil of Previous Day.

NEW YORK, March 7.—The violent agitation which was present in yesterday's stock market subsided today to a marked degree, and the volume of trading fell away one-half.

The constant nervous fluctuations of prices, however, showed clearly enough the after effects of the exciting turmoil of yesterday's almost unprecedented market. Sentiment was greatly depressed by the weak closing. While the fluctuations were constant, they were by no means as large as yesterday. Yet they sufficiently reflected the extremely unsettled state of speculative opinion. The active operations at different points in the market, however, showed the existence of two well-defined parties in the speculation. There was belated liquidation in sound stocks, which appeared to be drastic, and was of severe effect on prices. At other periods prices held with a stability which could only be due to accumulation of a persistent and extensive kind. The market gave way again and again in sympathy with the outbreak of weak points, and as often rallied in sympathy with the resistance displayed by some of the railroad stocks of prime importance until the sudden weakening of the whole market at the close.

The result was to keep market observers in a fever of hesitation as to whether the culmination of the long decline was signalized by the abrupt drives against the shorts precipitated by the panic amongst the bears in Reading yesterday.

The market started with an aggressive reassertion of bear tactics which forced a violent reaction in Reading itself and a severe decline in Canadian Pacific. Almost immediately prices rebounded to a level well above last night. These movements decided the uncertainty of the speculative temper for the whole of the remainder of the day.

The impressive dealings in Reading remained a mystery. Failure of authoritative confirmation of yesterday's rumors of passing of control threw them into discredit, and opinion remained divided between that supposition or one of purely speculative operations with effective manipulation against the ever extended bear account. Atchison also was a severe sufferer from renewed selling which was associated with the doubts over the hoped for increase in the dividend rate. The liquidation in Southern railway and Erie also was so pronounced and of so ominous a character as to throw the balance of the whole market for the time to the side of depression.

Southern railway's report of a decline in net earnings for January of nearly 16 per cent gave point to the expected fears for the reduction or the passing of the dividend on the preferred stock. On the other hand there was steady absorption of the Harriman, Hill and principal trunk line stocks. The Harriman stocks were influenced by the showing of net earnings for January, which showed an increase for Southern Pacific of 9 per cent and for Union Pacific of 13 per cent. Reports from the iron and steel trade were of unabated activity, approaching buoyancy in some departments, but United States Steel weakened in common with the Morgan stocks.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,748,000. United States new 4s, coupons, declined ¼ per cent on call.

GRAIN MARKET STRONG

DEMAND FOR WHEAT BRISK; CLOSE IS FIRM.

Lively Demand for Corn by Commission Houses and Shorts—Oats Market Strong.

CHICAGO, March 7.—An advance of ½ to ¾c in the price of cash wheat at Kansas City caused many traders to place some credence in damage reports. A moderate advance at Liverpool, some reported improvement in export business at New York, and the strength of corn and oats were additional reasons for the brisk demand for wheat. The market closed firm. May opened a shade to ⅛@⅜ higher, at 76⅞ to 76¾, advanced to 77⅛ and closed at 76⅞.

Firm cables, unsettled weather and small local receipts brought out a lively demand for corn by commission houses and shorts. With the exception of a short period during the last half of the day offerings were light and came chiefly from longs. There was a slight reaction late in the day on realizing sales, but the market again rallied and closed firm. May corn opened ⅛ to ¼ higher, at 47 to 47⅛, sold down to 46¾ and closed at 47.

Commission houses and shorts were active bidders for oats, and the market ruled strong all day. A shortage in the barley crop was one of the chief sources of strength. May oats opened ⅛@¼ to ¼ higher, at 42⅛ to 42¾@⅞, advanced to 42⅝@¾, and closed at 42½@⅝.

Provisions were active and prices showed substantial gains. Lard and ribs were in fair demand by exporters. Lard eased off somewhat late in the day on profit taking sales. At the close May pork was up 15c at $16.42. Lard was a shade lower, at $9.60. Ribs were 2½c higher, at 9.32½.

SUIT OVER A $1,100 BIBLE.

Butler (Pa.) Dispatch to the New York Times.

Mrs. Clara B. Greenlee of Butler, Pa., wife of C. D. Greenlee, the wealthy oil man of Butler and Pittsburg, is the defendant here today to recover $1,100, the cost of a specially made Bible. The plaintiff is Keller Loomis.

Mrs. Greenlee some time ago gave an order for a specially handsome Bible to be printed on Japan paper, with special bindings and lettering. When the book was ready for delivery, Mrs. Greenlee declared that it was not as she had ordered, and refused to accept it.

Miss Nettie Metcalf of Warren, O., is the only woman in America who has originated a breed of chickens.

GREAT FEATS OF MEMORY

Important Parts in Famous Plays Mastered in a Day.

From the Chicago Chronicle.

To the person in front of the footlights it would seem that the task of committing to memory the lines of a part must be a prodigious one. To some few it is, but as a rule actors acquire the facility of absorbing the lines of a part assigned to them quite quickly. In some cases under pressure feats of this kind have been truly marvelous, the words of intricate and difficult parts being committed to memory in a very short time. But this has not been accomplished without the closest application on the part of the actor.

On one occasion during the run of "King Lear," Sir Henry Irving took suddenly ill. It was not deemed expedient to shut the theater, as it was on a later occasion, but there was no understudy in the theater for King Lear. One of the actors, W. J. Holloway, who had had great experience in Shakespearean drama, undertook to study as much as possible of the part between the morning and evening and then to read the rest of it. So tenacious, however, was his memory that he accomplished the seemingly impossible task of learning King Lear in a day, for he played it without the aid of the prompter.

One afternoon, while out for a walk, one of the actors supporting Mme. Modjeska met Count Bozenta, Mme. Modjeska's husband, in a state of great excitement. On inquiring the cause the actor learned that the regular representative of the duke of Buckingham was ill and the man on whom they thought they could rely did not know a line of the part, so they were at their wits' end what to do.

"Don't worry," replied the actor, "I will play Buckingham tonight if you like."

"Do you know it?" asked Count Bozenta.

"No," was the reply, "but I shall know it if you care to rely on me."

It was the only way out of the difficulty, so the offer was accepted. It was then about 2:30. The actor went back to his hotel and began to study, after having called on one of the other members of the company to ask him to come and hear him repeat the part at 5 o'clock. When the second actor arrived the first was nearly perfect and by dint of speaking the part over and over again and having any slip corrected, by 6:30 he was able to feel that he was perfect.

It will be remembered that Buckingham has not only several long speeches while he is on the stage, but the scene preceding his execution consists of an address to the populace. In order to prevent any breakdown the actor got two members of the company to stand one on each side of the stage with the text in their hands, but he did not once require prompting, to the amazement of Count Bozenta, who went round after the play and said: "I was sitting in front in fear and trembling about you, but to my amazement you never missed a word. I have never seen such a thing in my life and I don't know another man who could have successfully studied the words in the time."

WAR OVER ADAM AND EVE.

French Author, in Funny Suit, Adding to Mark Twain Humor.

Paris Correspondence Chicago Chronicle.

Whether Adam and Eve's story can be considered complete in one act is a point now before the courts. M. Tristan Bernard and Cuvillier told it in two at the Capucines theater in an operetta, but after a few performances the manager, with the author's consent, left out the second act. Thereupon the publisher stopped payment of the copyright dues, which he had up till then disbursed to the authors at the rate of $11.50 per representation.

Being sued, he argues that the story of Adam and Eve as performed is unfinished and that he owes copyright fees only on the whole. It is absurd, he considers, to contend that the tale of the original couple is completed when they were ejected from paradise, which occurs at the curtain of act 1. A great many things happened afterward and the publisher refuses to pay dues on a fragmentary narrative. Moreover, the title of the operetta is "The Day Before Yesterday Morning," which implies that yesterday is also dealt with, as, indeed, is the case in the second act. But the first act stops at the day before yesterday.

Counsel for the authors agreed that defendant's argument was ingenious, but denied that it was sound. To begin with, the authors know their own business and are at liberty to curtail their own work if they choose. Moreover, counsel strove to prove that the one-act operetta does hold together and forms a whole.

The humor of it, some of which, by the way, the authors seem to have borrowed from a famous story in diary form by "Mark Twain," is sufficient unto itself. Adam is discovered counting his ribs and feeling himself all over. He is slightly feverish as a result of the surgical operation to which Eve owes her being. The rhinoceros and other animals console him by licking his hand. Eve is also sympathetic but inquisitive and he finds her a little trying. The head gardener of the garden of Eden tells them about forbidden fruit. They taste and are turned out.

The second act, counsel argued, was unnecessary, as it showed Adam and Eve after the fall in a modern flat, already tired of one another. The court is taking a week to decide whether the story of Adam and Eve can be called complete in one chapter, ending with the loss of Eden.

THE OLDEST ENLISTED MAN.

From the Chicago Chronicle.

The oldest enlisted man on the rolls of the United States army is Sergeant David Robertson, of the hospital corps, stationed on Governor's Island. Sergeant Robertson, who is a native of Scotland, first enlisted May 22, 1854, and he has been in continuous service, having the extraordinary record of never having lost a day. He is 75 years of age, but is as straight as a pine tree and carries himself with the agile step of a youth. He knew General Phil Sheridan as a lieutenant, and has equally vivid recollection of General W. S. Hancock when the latter was a young officer.

NEW SHAFT TO BISMARCK

Emperor's Tribute to the Iron Chancellor Just Finished.

From the Chicago Chronicle.

The monument to Bismarck, the iron chancellor, ordered by the kaiser for the memorial chapel of the Berlin cathedral, where the dead Hohenzollern princes now rest, has just been finished. It is the work of Professor Rheinhold Begas, who also executed the national monument to Bismarck in Berlin, and his colleague, Albert Gertz.

In general style, the monument harmonizes with the building, which is of the renaissance school. It is described as resembling, in its general conception the monument of "Michael Angelo," but as nevertheless displaying originality of thought and execution.

Two tapering pilasters frame it on either side. The main work consists of a base rounded toward the spectator bearing the single word "Bismarck" and supporting the life-sized seated statue of the chancellor.

In accordance with a suggestion of the kaiser the champion of German unity is portrayed in the armor of an old-time knight, which is partially veiled by the folds of a cloak. He is bareheaded and rests his hand on his hip; his eyes seem to gaze into the distance, his head being turned slightly toward the right.

On either side of the statue and in the rear stand statues of History, a female figure posing over a scroll, and Fame, a youth with trumpet set to his lips and pointing slightly upward as if proclaiming Bismarck's deeds to the world.

With his right hand the figure of Fame draws back a veil from the design carved in relief which covers the wall space behind the statue. This represents the unification of Germany. Germania sits enthroned with the Genius of Peace behind her, holding the palm above her head. The German princes approach her in procession.

First comes a page bearing the imperial crown upon a cushion. Next is King Ludwig II of Bavaria, King Albert of Saxony and the grand duke of Baden, all wearing regal crowns and ermine robes. Then another page bears the sceptre and orb and behind extends a line of minor princes, who are finally lost behind the partially lifted veil.

The work is in Italian marble. It stands about 15 feet high. Around it in the chapel stand the monuments to the princes and princesses of the house of Hohenzollern.

CURING A SICK RHINOCEROS

Rheumatic Animal Moved to Better Quarters Soon Begins to Mend.

From McClure's Magazine.

"Smiles" was a homely, bad-tempered two-horned bull rhinoceros, long as a half-grown elephant, with agile legs thicker than fence-posts, a hide tougher than sole leather, a pair of tiny eyes ever shifting restlessly in their hideously homely sockets. To this day not a beast in the entire menagerie is more vicious than "Smiles." With ferociousness born of sheer stupidity, he charges his keeper with the speed of lightning and tries to rip him open with an upward root of the wicked eighteen-inch horn fastened to the top of his nose.

Time was, however, when "Smiles" was harmless. Rheumatism, one of the scourges of the pachyderms, had crippled him. His legs were bent and twisted under him and he lay helpless like a sick sheep. For weeks he was unable to turn from the side on which he had fallen. Rats had built nests under him and were gnawing through his skin. Medicines were mixed with his food and liniments were rubbed into him, but these seemed worse than useless, and it looked as if the rare captive must die, when a new director was appointed to the menagerie.

The new man examined the brute's quarters. The floor was of cement and damp. Light came to the little stall through a single small window. Ventilation there was none. The new director issued an order. Half a hundred men lifted and heaved and tugged and pushed and pulled until the ugly creature, unable to vent his rage except in grunts, was loaded upon a low wagon and transported to a spacious, dry, light and well ventilated stall in the elephant house.

For two weeks the giant pig lay here nibbling at food and showing renewed interest in life. At the end of a month he staggered weakly to his feet, his red eyes beginning to twinkle dangerously. Within another month he was cured and as vicious as ever.

SHIP WITHOUT A COUNTRY

Lot of Barkentine Alta Which Once Sailed Under Chilean Colors.

From the Tacoma Ledger.

Sailing from port to port, with no country she can legally claim as home—in fact, a ship without a country—is the barkentine Alta, which left Tacoma yesterday, laden with a cargo of lumber for Callao.

Although owned by American citizens and paid for with American money, the Alta is not an American vessel and is not entitled to claim Uncle Sam's protection or to fly the stars and stripes. The United States will not give her American register and the shipping commissioner would not clear her. She departed from this port. She could not even clear her cargo here.

Upon arrival on the sound the Alta entered at the customs house at Port Townsend under protest, it is said, and from that port she will have to clear. Captain Thonagel states that the vessel encountered the same difficulties wherever she goes. The experience is no new one.

The Alta's last flag was the Chilean. She is owned by Americans at Manila and when they bought her she was put under a Philippine register for the coasting trade there. The end of her trouble, which has excited more or less comment on sundry occasions, will be when the Philippine islands are declared a territory. The Alta will then get American register, with Manila as her home port, just as a number of vessels obtained American register when Hawaii was made a territory.

The Alta is a four-masted steel barkentine of 1,232 net tonnage. She was built in 1900 by R. Duncan and company at Port Glasgow and is owned by A. P. Lorentzen. In Lloyd's register she is given as Chilean, under which flag she originally sailed. Naturally the Alta experiences difficulty in obtaining a crew, as no government officials of any country will sign them.

Japanese jinrikisha men disapprove the advent of the auto. They see in it a dangerous rival. The expression of their disapproval usually takes the form of a brick or a cobblestone.

LEGAL NOTICES.

To the Democrats of Colorado Springs, Colo.:

The official call for Democratic primaries and city convention, issued by Mr. R. F. Ady, as chairman, insofar as the apportionment of delegates is concerned, is incorrect. The apportionment was unanimously made for one delegate from each precinct and one additional delegate for each fifty votes, or major fraction thereof cast for Robert L. Hubbard for city attorney two years ago, giving the convention seventy-three delegates instead of forty-four, as provided for in Mr. Ady's call. The resolution under which Mr. Ady is acting was changed by the unanimous vote of the committee, although the actual correction was not made at the time with a pen. The representation as provided by the committee is as follows:

Ward	Precinct	Delegates

		72

This statement is made necessary because of the refusal of Mr. Ady to correct the call in accordance with the act of the action of the committee. Democrats will in each precinct elect delegates in accordance with the apportionment above and the committee under the rules and by-laws of the Democratic party, will place the delegates so elected upon the temporary roll call of the convention.

A DAUGHTER—Mr. and Mrs. ... Heizer, of this city, are the parents of a daughter, born Wednesday.

DANCING school at the Majestic tonight. Learn to dance under the best teachers at reasonable rates.

DEATH—Thomas Carter, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Kirkwood, died last night from abscess of the throat.

TO GIVE MUSICALE—Miss Effie Stewart, of New York city, will give a musical program in All Souls' church at 8 o'clock tonight.

DEATH—Martin Flynn died yesterday afternoon at 1515 North Cascade street. The remains will be accompanied by Mrs. Flynn to Nova Scotia today.

DEATH—A. S. Holt died at his home, 1602 North Tejon street, yesterday morning. The funeral will be held from the residence at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

HUNTING DUCKS—A party of Colorado Springs business men, among whom are F. E. Johnson, Charles Smith and R. T. Danaway, is hunting ducks near Lamar, Colo. G. H. Nolan and Clarence Underhill, of this city, left last night to join the party.

RESERVOIR PICTURES—Dr. William M. Strickler has presented the Chamber of Commerce with pictures of two reservoirs of the Colorado Springs water system, completed during his administration as mayor of this city. The pictures are framed, and show some beautiful mountain scenery.

THE W. C. T. U. of the east side will hold a sale of home-made cooking at 118 North Tejon on Saturday, March 9. A lunch table will be a special feature of the day. The important object is to raise money to furnish a room in the new hospital. Ladies shopping will find a cozy corner and a cup of tea very refreshing.

TURN WATER IN—Water was turned into Reservoir No. 3, of the Fountain Valley Land and Irrigation company's system yesterday, and will continue to run until the reservoir is full. The reservoir has a capacity of 91,000,000 cubic feet. It is located about seven miles north of Fountain in the Fountain valley.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM FIRE

Boys' Club Badly Damaged Yesterday Noon by Burst of Flames.

The two rear rooms at 109 South Tejon street, which are occupied by the Boys' club, were almost destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon shortly after 12 o'clock. The fire was caused by defective wiring in a shed at the rear of the building and had gained considerable headway before it was discovered and the fire department summoned. The tools used by the members of the club were slightly damaged. The piano and most of the furniture were saved.

The Boys' club has three rooms in the building which will be repaired temporarily.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the friends and neighbors who so kindly came and did all human could do during the brief illness and death of our mother.

The correct corset models

MOST becoming models for spring and summer are represented in this comprehensive showing of high-class corsets. It is the universal question with smart dressers each season, as to the correct corset to select. The various new garment effects make it imperative that careful consideration be given the corset in order to show in the best manner, the most effective lines of the figure and at the same time allow perfect comfort.

All the important features that fashion has decreed entirely proper are quickly noticeable in the spring models of the

La Grecque, Vernice, Redfern, P. D., Warner's and J. B. corsets

They are the makes the Giddings store indorse and you can depend upon these models to be right in every detail.

LA GRECQUE Corsets, the cut showing one of the late models. We are the exclusive sellers of La Grecque corsets, shown for slender and medium figures, from $1.00 to $5.00; stout figures, $3.00, $5.00, $7.50.

P. D. CORSETS, in all the late styles and materials, $1.50 to $6.00.

J. B. CORSETS, in all the new styles, at $1.00 and up to $5.00.

VERNICE CORSETS—A strictly high-class corset, made of fine selected materials, for the most careful dressers, $4.00 to $8.00.

WARNER'S celebrated rust proof corsets, in all the late shapes, $1.00 and up to $3.00.

REDFERN CORSETS, high class in every respect, designed for the season 1907, at $3.00 and up to $5.00.

Dainty outfits for infants and children
